ANGELA RYE TO PRESENT AT 21st ANNUAL HOUSING WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

(WASHINGTON, DC) Angela Rye, Principal of IMPACT Strategies will present at this year's HOUSING WASHINGTON Conference at the Greater Tacoma Convention & Trade Center in Tacoma, Washington today.

Recognized for being the premier conference on housing, HOUSING WASHINGTON is a national platform where leaders, experts and professionals in the housing field discuss urban and rural planning, community development, housing affordability, and home ownership.

The conference is widely attended by a host of public agencies, affordable housing advocates, city planners, legislators, housing groups, and the lending industry that convene to develop strategies and find alternative solutions to current housing and economic issues.

Rye will speak on the topic of The Evolution of Advocacy in Fair Housing Policy and engage in a dialogue where she will present how the fluctuation of the political environment and the consequences that government and banking regulations like red lining and adjustable rate mortgages has disproportionately affected certain communities across the country.

Special features of HOUSING WASHINGTON 2014 are the distribution of the Friend of Housing & Margaret M. Sevy Lifetime Achievement Awards, an Exhibitor Showcase, and a viewing of American Refugees: Four Animated Short Films, a collaborative effort between local filmmakers and Seattle University's Project on Family Homelessness displaying families affected by homelessness in the U.S.
