ICYMI: Americans for Responsible Solutions Launches #ProtectAllWomen Leadership Network

We are a nation in crisis. Over the last few years, gun violence has taken the lives of countless innocent victims. From mass shootings at Navy Yard, Newton, Aurora, and Santa Barbara, to the streets of Chicago, and to homes torn apart by abusive domestic partners, guns have found their way into the hands of people seeking to do harm.

The time has come for citizens to stand up and say enough is enough, and hold their elected officials and stakeholders accountable. Overall gun control reform—a comprehensive set of policy recommendations including strict prescriptive regulations and extensive background checks—is imperative to closing loopholes in the system and keeping our communities safe.

Angela Rye, Principal and CEO of IMPACT Strategies, joins former Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords and other national women leaders who have announced the #ProtectAllWomen Leadership Network, an initiative targeting gun violence and finding solutions to this epidemic that disproportionately affects women and children.
